

Waveland loses new utility head

BY JACQUI COCHRAN
Richard Ehrbright, Waveland's new utilities superintendent resigned from his position, citing incompatibility with Mayor Stella Frilot.

"Any leadership and management skills I may have possessed," said Ehrbright, "were incompatible with the mayor."

Ehrbright turned in his resignation January 28, after working slightly more than a month in the position.

As utilities superintendent, he was the first employee in Waveland's history to hold the job other than a mayor.

Frilot was insistent throughout her campaign that should she be elected mayor, she would not take the utility head position, as was traditionally done in Waveland.

Frilot also designated Ehrbright at the beginning of the year as her representative on the three-man board of the Waveland Regional Wastewater Management District.

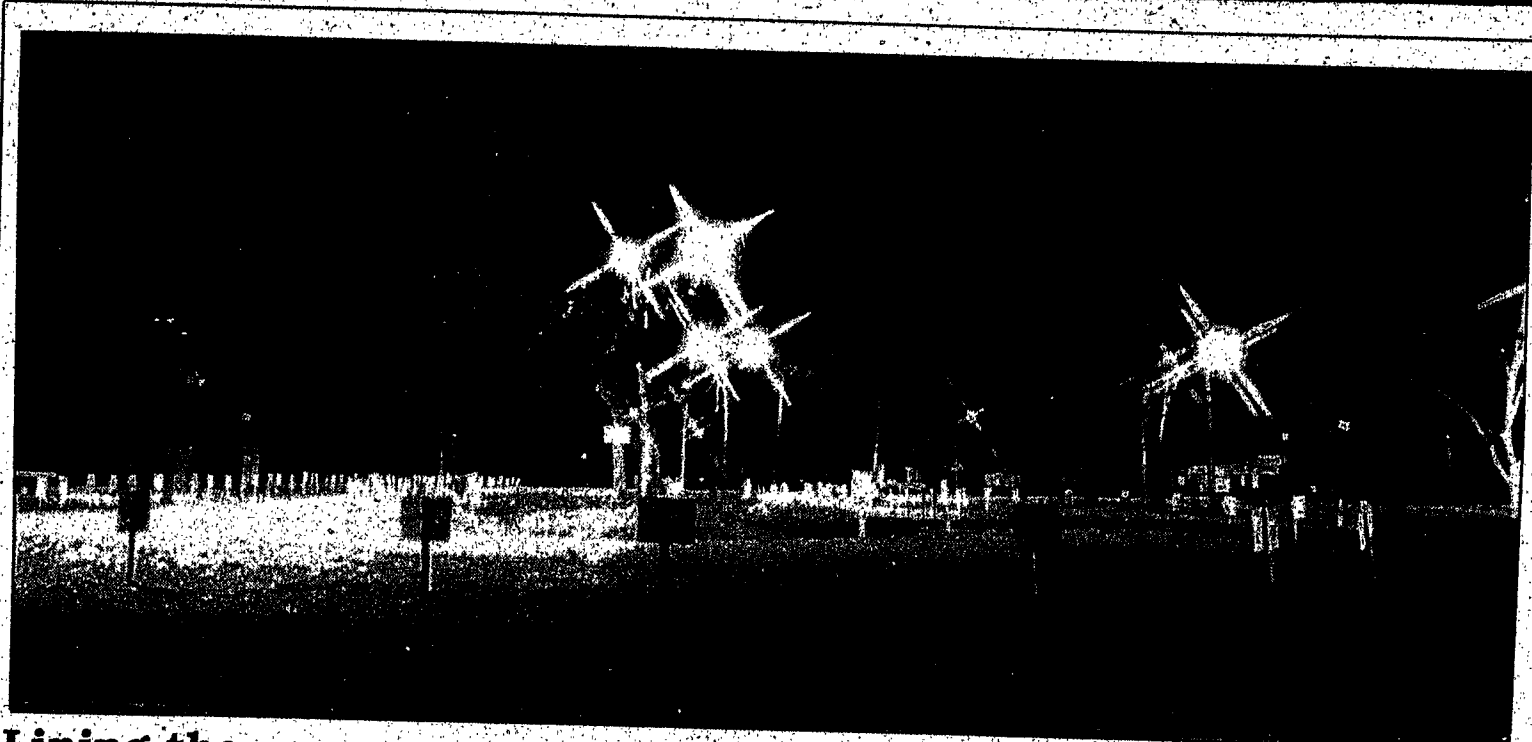

She said she had not had the time to do justice to the wastewater position, being occupied full-time at city hall.

Ehrbright said his resignation included his representation of Waveland on the wastewater board, saying, "One goes with the other."

Frilot reported Ehrbright's position would be filled with another appointee at a later date.

"Don't look for me to put someone in there in the next week or two," she said.

She said a representative to the wastewater board would be found immediately.

Multivision attempts to hold off cable competitor

Promises to extend service within 90 days in Waveland

BY JACQUI COCHRAN
Multivision, the cable television company, which currently serves the city of Waveland, appealed to the board Tuesday to reconsider allowing another cable company into the area.

Fear of market saturation has caused Multivision to offer Waveland completed service within 90 days, to those areas previously refused because they were too sparsely populated to merit company investment.

Ted Campbell, general manager for Multivision, explained that in an area as small as Waveland, two companies could not survive financially.

Campbell predicted that the initial lower cost, caused by the addition of a competing firm would last only a year or two. As the market became divided and revenues decreased, one or the other would be forced to sell out. The cost of the buyout would be absorbed by the consumer, causing the lower rates to inflate.

Campbell told the board that Multivision is presently in negotiations to buy out Futurevision in Wiggins for just this reason of market saturation.

"We are asking that you hold off and investigate the situation before you allow another company into the market," said Campbell.

To sweeten the pie, 3.4 miles of Waveland which are not serviced by cable, will be completed as a "good will gesture," said Campbell.

The franchise agreement with the city requires that cable be made available in areas where 30 homes per mile exist. The 3.4 miles include several areas which do not meet this criteria.

The board was to approve the addition of Futurevision to the city cable ordinance, but after speaking with Campbell they chose to review further the addition of another cable company to the area.

Bay's dockside gambling committee meets Feb. 14

BY TRACI BONNEY

The Bay St. Louis city-appointed Blue Ribbon Committee to study proposals for dockside gambling-related zoning ordinance amendments may be underway soon, according to Mayor Edward Favre.

Favre said at the city council's meeting Tuesday that he is planning to set up a meeting with the committee members Thursday, Feb. 14. After that initial meeting, he added, the committee could call its own meetings whenever desired.

The committee was formed at the January 22 council meeting. Several people had requested at a planning and zoning commission public hearing that the city set up a panel of local residents and business people to serve as a liaison between the city, the planning and zoning committee and the community in handling proposals about zoning to regulate dockside gambling in Bay St. Louis.

During the council's public forum, Ashton Carver asked the council what can be done to enforce the state's requirement that a person moving to Mississippi buy an in-state license tag for his vehicle within 30 days. Carver had addressed this concern to the council at a past meeting.

Uniform size culverts mandated by Waveland

BY JACQUI COCHRAN
The board of aldermen adopted an ordinance Tuesday requiring that all culverts impeding the flow of ditch waters are to be dug up and replaced with others.

The city will pay for all city-installed culverts. The residents will pay for private culverts.

According to Mayor Stella Frilot, there are 50 to 60 culverts throughout the city which are undersized or damaged and hinder the flow of storm waters by not allowing the water capacity to move through quickly.

She said the water backs up and floods onto the streets.

The ordinance gives the city the authority to remove the problem culverts.

The city will provide the labor to remove the old culverts and place the new culverts into ditches at the proper height to promote good water flow.

A culvert, when privately owned, will be purchased by the property owner and any overlay of a driveway will at the expense of the property owner.

Ward 3 alderman Curtis P. "Phil" Colson expressed concern over the cost to the resident.

Should anyone, with a culvert deemed to be a problem, refuse or be unable to purchase

County applies for funds to pave Texas Flat Road

BY TRACI BONNEY

The paving of Texas Flat Road is a step closer to reality—a small step, but a step.

County engineer Larry Seal said Monday that the county has been given the green light to apply for state and federal funds for the project. He told the Board of Supervisors at their first February meeting that the approval was only the first step.

If all goes as expected, Seal said the project, which is expected to cost approximately $11 million, should be completed in two to three years. The county must provide some matching funds for the work.

The board voted to obligate $500,000 in State Aid funds for the project, and approved authorization for Seal to proceed with the fund application.

The board also heard a complaint from Mrs. C.M. Lawson of Bay Side Park about a drainage problem that she said has become progressively worse.

Road superintendent Sam Cuevas told her that the piece of equipment needed to do the necessary ditch cleaning is currently being used on a project elsewhere in the county and will be taken to Pearlinton for its next project, but will go to Bay Side Park after its work in Pearl-

He said he conducted an informal survey one day between Ramaneda Street and Ulman Avenue and counted 29 out-of-state tags on vehicles.

Favre told Carver the city was doing something about the problem. Favre said the police department had conducted numerous roadblocks and issued several citations, many of which had resulted in the purchase of Mississippi tags.

He added the city was continuing to check into the problem, since an illegal out-of-state tag costs both the city and the county $200.

In other business, the

—approved one recommendation of the planning and zoning committee for the rezoning of land near Hancock Medical Center from Residential 1 to Medical Office 1, and tabled two other recommendations for a variance and a rezoning proposal until further information could be obtained;

—authorized advertisement for water and sewer system clamps and couplings;

—approved the sale of several lots in Shoreline Park from the delinquent tax rolls;

—authorized the payment of up to $300 to the county as a service fee for use of a proposed firing range by police department personnel, when that range is constructed and opened for use;

—and voted to send notification of trash ordinance violations to J. Alvin Triche after hearing complaints from neighbor Betty Lou Tranchina about piles of debris left on Triche's lot after his house burned in 1990.

The council members discussed giving Triche two days to clean the lot, but after seeing photos of the property they decided more time would be needed.

The council voted to give Triche seven working days from the date of either the mailing or hand delivery of the notification letter.

The council set up a workshop meeting for 6 p.m. Monday, Feb. 18, then adjourned to February 19.

KILLING TIME

By Traci Bonney

Hurray for technology?

I think I may actually be able to accept going to the dentist one of these days.

I don't know how you feel about visits to the dentist, but I view them as something to be avoided until you have no choice.

My reasons are simple — 1) the cost; 2) the pain.

The cost of a dentist visit can be high. I don't like being in a position where I have to say, "Okay, do I want to keep this tooth in my mouth, or do I want to keep my car from being repossessed?"

As for the pain, I think anyone who has ever had a cavity filled or a tooth pulled knows what I mean. If you have had braces at any point in your life, you definitely know what I mean.

Dentists are nice people, for the most part. It's just that they have chosen as their career the profession invented by the Marquis de Sade when he was told he had to put away the whips and branding irons.

One instrument of torture — oops, I mean dentistry — that seems to have remained essentially the same for centuries is the drill. Now, I know that it's smaller these days, but except for being driven by electricity the drill hasn't changed much. It's loud, and it's painful.

In fact, the noise is part of the pain of the drill. If my dentist could find a way to render me temporarily deaf when he's working on a cavity, he might not have to give me a double shot of Novacaine.

Well, thanks to the wonders of technology, we may not have to endure the noise, vibrations and pain of drills much longer.

Now, dentists can replace those archaic drills with the much more advanced laser.

The American Dental Laser, which is approved by Food and Drug Administration, is supposed to "silently vaporize tooth decay," according to the article I read.

The laser beam is delivered in tiny pulses, only 30-trillionths of a second long, which evidently is not long enough to trigger a pain nerve.

This is an interesting development, to say the least. If I should ever have another cavity (God forbid!) I might not have to endure the agony of the teeth, if my dentist has one of these handy-dandy new gadgets. However, I do have a concern or two.

What kind of training will dentists need to use these lasers? Will they have to set the controls on the laser or are those controls preset? After all, I don't want my lower jaw "silently vaporized" by someone who doesn't quite have the hang of the new technology.

Another thing: when will these lasers become a common fixture in dentists' offices? Will my dentist have one in time for my next visit, or will I have to pray he doesn't find any cavities?

Last, there's still my first reason for avoiding dentist visits: the cost. If a semi-annual torture session costs me a car payment now, what will it cost after the dentist gets a laser, if he ever does? Will I just sign over the title to the Cavalier?

Exercise nuts say, "No pain, no gain." I have the feeling that, no matter whether it's a drill or a laser the dentist uses, it will be a case of "my pain, his gain."

Hancock Medical announces mammography accreditation

BY JANET MCQUEEN

The mammography facility at Hancock Medical Center in Bay St. Louis has been accredited by the American College of Radiology (ACR).

In doing so, the hospital becomes one of three on the Coast who can claim the status. Others include Singing River in Pascagoula and the Biloxi Regional Medical Center.

Accreditation means the hospital is allowed to accept Medicare payment for mammograms, which was recently approved.

The facility has met the necessary requirements, which include a peer review evaluation of the facility's staff qualifications, equipment, quality control and quality assurance programs, image quality and breast dose. The accreditation must be renewed every three years.

According to director of radiology Jeannie R. Moran, the application process was started in October, 1989.

More than 1,500 facilities have been accredited nationwide. This program was started in response to two major concerns expressed by radiologists, other national medical organizations, and the public:

1) that qualified personnel perform and interpret mammograms and

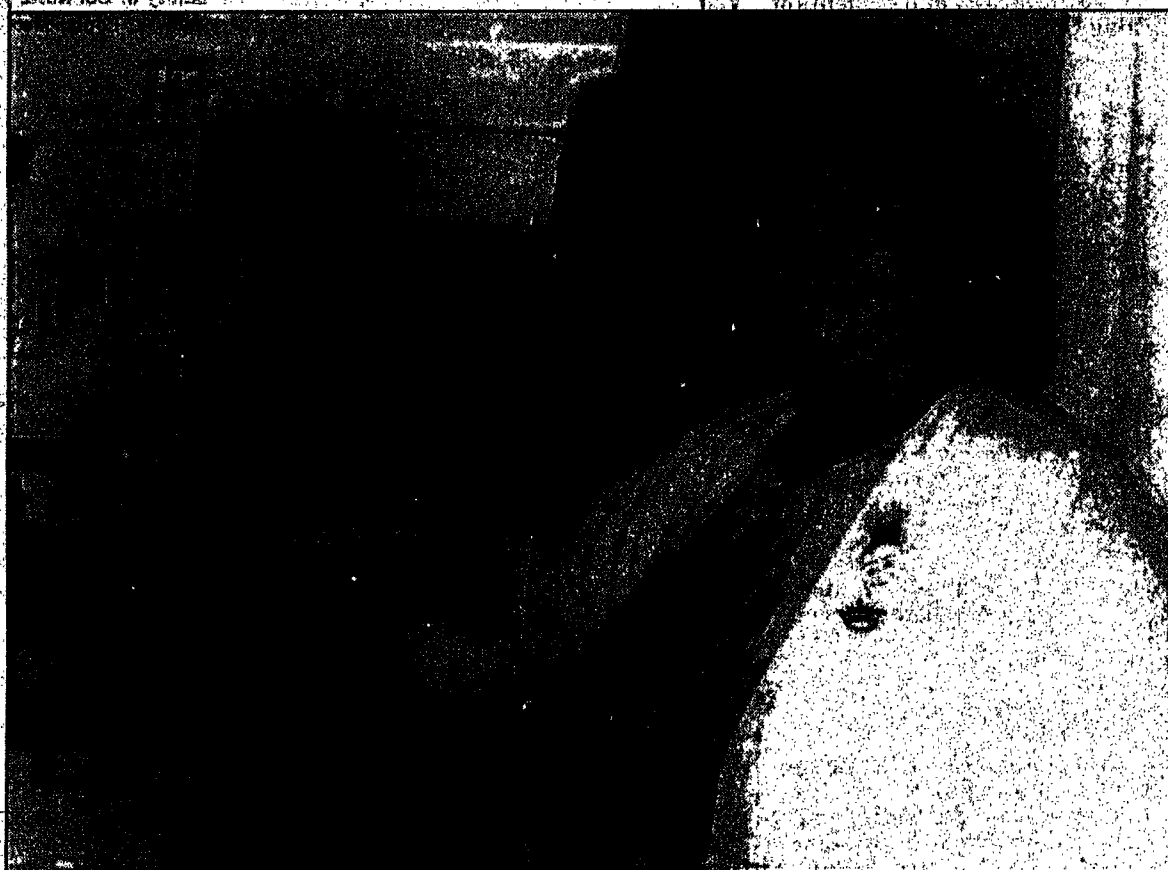

2) that dedicated mammographic equipment be used to ensure that women receive optimum mammographic examinations with the lowest possible risk.

One in 10 women will develop breast cancer in her lifetime. Early detection is the key to survival. Mammography done in conjunction with breast physical examinations provides the most accurate diagnosis of early breast cancer.

The American College of Radiology, the American Cancer Society, the American Medical Association and nine other major medical organizations, recommend the following guidelines for women without symptoms:

—Between ages 40-49, a mammogram should be done every 1-2 years; a physical breast exam every year.

—After age 50, a mammogram and physical breast exam should be done every year.

Director of radiology Jeannie Moran

the size recommended by the city, the existing culvert will be removed and only an open ditch will remain.

Fines for refusal to comply with the ordinance shall also be compounded.

The ordinance was made law with board approval. It will be 30 days before the law goes into effect.

Ward 4 alderman Stan Weidman asked that a public hearing be held before acceptance of the ordinance in order to gather response from the people who will be affected.

Ward 1 alderman Barbara Rappold and City Attorney Lucien Gex explained if residents had objections, a public hearing could be held within the 30 days, and at that time, the ordinance could be amended or even killed.

Frilot assured the board after observing various problem areas during recent rains, and with recommendation from street superintendent Henry Villere, the replacements of these culverts is necessary for efficient water flow.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

It is always good to get away for a few days of vacation.

Last week, Jane and I joined some 114 Coast residents, of which 30 were from Hancock County, for a cruise out of New Orleans to the Gulf, down Mexico way.

I heard about the heavy rains in the area while we were away.

We made stops at Cozumel, Grand Caymen and Montego Bay during the cruise.

The most exciting tour Jane and I took was at Montego Bay when we went down in a submarine some 100 feet below the water's surface.

The waters are so clear, you can see hundreds of feet in front of you. The corals, sea ferns and all types of fish can be seen so clearly.

We were told there are only two submarines of this type in operation in the world.

There was a lot of shopping on the trip, along with a lot of top-flight entertainment.

The food was delicious, as three pounds I gained will attest to. I have to do some extra walking, hoping to lose this extra weight.

There were eight of us who dined together each day. They were Jane and I, Phillip and Irene Scafidi, Harold and Alice Masson and Dale and Arlene Henry of Long Beach. Watson and Ruth Johns were at a table close to ours.

Some of the others from the area included Randolph and Theresa Bourgeois, John and Marjorie Lounge, Bertha Morris, James and Patricia Sexton, Florence Laurensen, Al and Alice Green, Helen Cazaubon, Sylvester and Myrtle Pagano and others.

By the way, I am glad to be back safe and sound. One of the things I really missed was the keeping up with the developments in the Middle East.

I did get back on Saturday in time for the big Salute to Our Troops celebration held at the Hancock County Walking Track.

Estimates on the number of persons in attendance run from 1,500 to possibly over 2,000, so the affair was a great success.

I know it is good for our men and women in uniform to know the folks back at home are supporting them 100 percent.

I would like to congratulate everyone who helped make the Hancock County Salute to Our Troops a big success.

I, along with fellow Hancock Countians, wish our men and women in uniform a safe and speedy return to their families and friends.

Saturday is the big day for Diamondhead's annual Mardi Gras parade.

The parade has a new route this year, as it starts at the Community Center.

The parade proceeds down Gex Drive to Aloha Drive (business area), to Diamondhead Drive and then Golf Club Drive to the Country Club.

The parade begins at 2 p.m. on Saturday.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Taylor's vote for sanctions not representative of constituents' will

To the Editor,

Many Mississippians have voiced their surprise, others were stunned by Congressman Gene Taylor's vote against President Bush's approach to the war against this madman. I learned of this from a man in Gulfport—a Taylor supporter—who felt betrayed and said he and Mississippians who voted for the congressman deserved an apology.

Last week I saw Congressman Taylor on local TV. He remarked, "I had to explain to the peaceniks my past action," implying, I suppose, however I vote, someone will be dissatisfied.

Congressman Taylor seems to forget he was not voted into office by the peaceniks of Berkeley, nor the anti-business and anti-establishment socialist minded kooks parading in San Francisco; to the contrary, he was elected by proud, patriotic folks of Mississippi.

His job is to represent us by working for our wishes, not playing the self-serving political game.

There is no question the people of this proud state support our President and troops.

Reader takes issue with Haas' criticism of president

Dear Editor:

In answer to the letter to the editor from Mr. Nicholas Haas Jr. Jan. 31, 1991: I understand you have a very good education and are very well learned.

I am a little old 62-year-old American, not too much education, but I do love my country, right or wrong. I and you, too, enjoy all the freedoms of our country—freedoms that many Americans gave their lives for. President Bush said he would not be held captive in the White House by this madman Saddam Hussein of Iraq. As I sit here and write, he is visiting the bases of our service men.

I like Rep. Gene Taylor, was against this at first, but at this time I did not know what a maniac we were dealing with. He has no heart, he just thinks of murder. If you remember, we had another war with a madman, and his name was Adolf Hitler.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Soldier not ready for war should not have enlisted in first place

To the Editor,

I'm writing in response to the letter by Jonathan Clark, who is in the military, says he is a conscientious objector—opposed to war, and now finds himself on his way to Saudi Arabia.

He certainly has a dilemma, but my question for him is, why did he join the military in the first place?

Did he not voluntarily sign up? Did he not realize that he made a commitment to his country?

Many people in this day and age take their commitments too lightly or don't give them serious enough consideration before making them.

Our increasingly lax laws are providing easy ways out of commitments, as evidenced by the rising rate of divorce, abortion, and bankruptcy. Unfortunately wars are a fact of life, and thank God the United States will stand up and fight for what we believe.

Meanwhile, my heartfelt thanks goes to Mr. Ames Kergosien and the others responsible for arranging the wonderful salute to our troops last Saturday at the Hancock Walking Trail.

Also, thanks to you at the Sea Coast Echo for your continued support for our men and women in uniform in the Middle East.

Sincerely,

Mary McDonnell

Flag thieves rob Bay merchants, home owners

Dear Editor:

An evening last week I drove by our shop on Main Street to take down our Mardi Gras flag and found it gone.

Upon returning the same evening from rehearsals at the Little Theatre, both large king flags hanging from our front porch residence on Main Street were also gone.

Last month an American flag from the shop across the street was also taken and several holiday flags from up and down Main Street were also missing.

We on Main Street, both residents and business owners, take pride in decorating our houses and shops for the community and the tourists.

We try very hard and at individual expense to keep 'Olde Town' a quaint looking village.

It is quite disheartening to learn that there are those in our community who trespass on others at the expense of community pride.

ASRM testing was forced on our residents

To the Editor,

According to recent news reports the people of our communities—Hancock and Pearl River counties in Mississippi, and St. Tammany Parish, Louisiana—have learned that they have absolutely no voice or power to prevent big government from its "bull moose" tactic of simply rolling over us and destroying our health, our natural resources, our wetlands and wildlife, and our established way of life!

NASA got the go-ahead to use the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers to tear down and destroy our wetlands so they can build their solid fuel rocket testing facility in our midst with no regard for the thousands of families that might be adversely affected or the wildlife that might be destroyed!

I suppose that soon they'll try to claim that they're the "modern-day Lazarus" and demonstrate how they will bring "back-to-life" all who died or became deathly ill due to their actions!

That is, after we discover that their co-called experiment (which they couldn't possibly prove) has failed and everybody is either very sick or dead from the horrible pollution which went wrong!

Why can't they build their test facility up in north Mississippi where they're building the solid fuel rockets? Too close to the Legislative halls in Jackson? God help us all!

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Americans must die before Saddam is ousted

Dear Editor:

I feel slighted by Nina S. Garcia's Letter to the Editor dated Jan. 27. I am neither a natural-born nor naturalized American.

I was born by Caesarean section, but that doesn't make me any less thankful that there is a country like America. I appreciate her contempt for Saddam Hussein, but her counterparts in Iraq feel the same way about George Bush.

Before we get our hands on Saddam Hussein, we must annihilate most of his loyal supporters.

We will lose a lot of our loyal

Americans in the process, but in the end Nina S. Garcia's hunger for vengeance will be satisfied.

If he is worse than Hitler, he will do himself in and save us the trouble.

Unfortunately this vote sent a negative support message to our courageous men and women and was welcomed by the liberal faction in Washington. Saddam, the savage, is betting on this kind of encouragement—a divided America—to lengthen the war.

We can understand this "no vote" by Louisiana Congressman Jefferson who makes no bones regarding his affiliation, as well as the former hawk Sam Nunn of Georgia, who seems, to say the least, be making an about face to advance his chance as a presidential candidate.

Congressman Taylor does not fall into the Jefferson category. Casting him in the Sam Nunn mold is difficult as we have been impressed with his honesty. However, we do worry this vote could be trendsetting.

So there will be no misunderstanding as to the intent of this letter, as a Republican, I showed support for Mr. Taylor by picking up signs and placing them on properties.

Many know the disappointment of Democratic supporters. Imagine, if you can, the greater disappointment Republicans feel.

Possibly my feelings are enhanced by thoughts of the early forties, when as a member of a proud group I took part in an aerial assault against another madman. Unlike today, however, we had the full support of all Americans, from politicians to the man and woman on the street.

My heart goes out to our troops who hear and see the non-support attitude. This can not happen when these brave men and women return.

It is our sincere hope Congressman Taylor realizes an error in judgment and refocuses his views from the anti-Bush clones to the conservative people in his district.

Sincerely
Francis S. Evans
Bay St. Louis

Haas' criticism Continued from Page 4A

You cannot talk peace with animals like Saddam and Hussein. If we would have waited, he would have stockpiled more weapons and poison gas, and many more people would have been killed.

For instance, if your neighbor was being brutally raped and murdered by a maniac and you had a chance to help her, would you just stand by and watch—go to help her? Of course, I hope you would try and help.

This is our situation today. Saddam murdered and used poison gas on innocent human beings.

As to answer to having Bush in the front lines with the troops: If he wasn't our leader, I imagine he would be, but being our leader, he is needed more in the position he is in. I back him completely.

And as for Dan Quayle's speech to our troops, I understand he helped the morale of our servicemen very much. And I'm sure he would go and praise the troops and recognize the heroes over there.

Bush has done a lot for establishing peace in the world in his term of office. Look at Germany and now the Soviet Union.

Wake up, Mr. Haas, you are going along with Saddam. He said in his speech for Americans to be ashamed of their country and their leaders and to demonstrate against it.

I do pray and hope none of our servicemen ever have a chance to see or read your letter.

I love America very much, and I care for all the servicemen overseas and their families. God bless you, Mr. Haas, and I hope he opens your heart to our country and our President and leader. They need all Americans at this time to defeat this "Maniac Saddam." It's never too late or impossible.

God bless America and you, and keep us free. In all wars lives are lost. That's how we have all this freedom; from thousands of great men and heroes who fought for all of our great freedoms.

"Let's Have Dinner"

"Your Desk Or Mine?"

For Doctors Jeanne and Robert Eddington, dinner is no ordinary occasion. Because as OB-GYNs who are married to each other, the doctors know that their meals will be occasionally—or frequently—interrupted for a special delivery. The birth of a new baby.

As parents themselves, the Eddingtons know that newborns come at all times. And in all sizes. They also understand the emotional demands pregnancy creates for expectant parents. So they know how to help you deal with these emotions.

The Eddingtons also know that few experiences are more beautiful than the birth of a child. It's one of the reasons they chose their profession.

Another reason they chose to become doctors was to help others. That's why they offer a full range of obstetric and gynecological care, for women and adolescents. Plus the emotional support you need. So when you come to the Eddingtons for care, you're not just treated as a patient. You're treated like a friend.

It's the caring attitude patients appreciate most. And it makes special times—like the birth of your baby—much easier. No matter what time your newborn chooses to arrive.

So if your baby's arrival interrupts their meal, the doctors don't mind. Because whether or not it's dinnertime, the Eddingtons deliver.

SHOPPING UP A STORM

By Katy
McGuire Caire

Fresh vegetables make up the bulk of my shopping list just now, as I stock up on the "makings" of good and savory soups and stews and casseroles. Since the sunshine has replaced the rains and dreary stormy weather, I'm in a sunny cooking mood, trying out various recipes and combinations and new and old ideas on food!

Onions, just those plain "ole" yellow onions, are especially good buys just now, so toss a sack into the shopping cart, instead of picking up just a few; you'll be amazed at the number of tasty dishes you can make, instead of just using the onions for seasoning or smothered hamburger steak or liver and onions (I like onions and liver!) and such mundane methods of cooking.

For instance, onions are delicious when baked whole. I also stuff whole onions, just as I do bell (green) peppers and eggplants and mirlitons and all that, especially just now, when the onions take less a bite out of the pocketbook than some of the others, tasty as they may be! And, of course, there's the classic onion soup, and all sorts of other good dishes. I like to cover whole onions loosely with foil (so that the juice doesn't spurt out all over) and bake them in a hot oven for an hour, as the Irish do. Delicious with roast beef! And, try this:

ONIONS, ETC., SAUTE
3 cups raw onions rings (see note)
1 cup sliced celery
2 Tbsp. butter or margarine
1 bell (green) pepper, cut in julienne strips
1 cup sliced mushrooms

2 tomatoes, cut in wedges
1/4 cup dry white wine
Salt, pepper to your taste
Note: Peel onions and slice crosswise (one-fourth-inch) then separate into rings. Saute onions and celery in butter or margarine for five minutes, add the bell pepper and mushrooms and cook for two or three minutes longer.

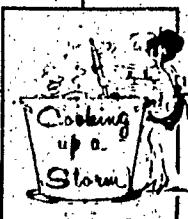

Add remaining ingredients, cover and cook until just tender, adding pepper and salt. This is a tasty meat or chicken accompaniment. (Pour to six servings)

Onions, by the way, are not only a low-calorie nutrient, but are also rich in potassium and flavor, as well as being plentiful and cheap. And, if you're worrying about weeping while you work, here's a tip from the National Onion Association, industry group based in Greeley, Colo.: "Store in the refrigerator awhile first, then cut off the top and peel the outside, leaving the root end on; or slice under running water."

Carrots, also are a bargain, as are broccoli and cauliflower and cabbage. For a different way with carrots, combine several carrots, sliced diagonally, with canned pineapple tidbits or chunks, along with a cup of orange juice and a dash, scant, of cinnamon. First, steam the carrots, and drain. Drain the liquid from the pineapple, and set the tidbits aside.

Combine the juices and cinnamon, heat, and add a little cornstarch, say a tablespoon, to the mixture as it heat up. Return the carrots to the pan, and cook until sauce is rather syrupy.

Chicken leg quarters, as usual, are a good buy at our area stores. Chicken breasts are offered at special prices, also. Ham shank portions are on special, as are beef chuck roasts.

COOKING UP A STORM

By Katy
McGuire Caire

Pancakes in various forms, from the thin and delicate crepes of French cuisine to the more robust versions dear to other countries and cultures, were devised centuries ago, so history tells us, as a way to enjoy and use up the last of the eggs and butter and cream or milk and other delectables in a final lavish feast before the Lenten fast!

That's how Shrove Tuesday—or Fat Tuesday—or Mardi Gras—became known as Pancake Day to many peoples. French colonists brought the custom to New Orleans and the Coast, and others followed suit. Of course, Lenten regulations have been relaxed in modern times, but, somehow I cling to many ways of the past at times, and besides, I like crepes or pancakes or blini, or whatever you wish to call them, all around the calendar.

Pancakes on Mardi Gras, Shrove Tuesday, have been a part of my life ever since memory serves me; in fact, one French-born nurse during my childhood days insisted upon tossing a crepe or so atop the old rosewood armoire in my parents' bedroom each Mardi Gras to ensure luck during the coming year!

I don't remember what happened to any of those crepes, but someone must have removed them, for we kept on living in the house! Enough of legends and beliefs. I like crepes and other pancakes for breakfast, drizzled with butter and cane syrup; for lunch as a base for creamed chicken or ham and such; as an appetizer at cocktail time, and so on all around the clock and the season.

And, of course there's that classic dessert, Crepes Suzette or Crepes Grand Marnier.

So, with Mardi Gras almost upon us, let's enjoy pancakes in celebration. Here's a basic recipe for:

CREPES
1 cup flour
1 1/2 cups milk, approximately 3 eggs
Pinch of salt
4 Tbsp. butter, melted
Place the cup of flour in a large bowl, and make a hole or well in the center. In this, place the eggs, pinch of salt and half a cup of the milk. Starting from the center beat or whisk until all the flour is absorbed and the batter is smooth. Thin the batter down with enough milk to give the consistency of light cream.

At this point, if possible, let the batter rest for a couple of hours or overnight in the refrigerator. If batter is too thick, thin it down with a little more milk to get it back to the consistency of cream.

Melt the butter in the skillet or special pan and stir into the batter. Then wipe the pan with a paper towel and heat until a drop of water bounces off. Pour in three or four tablespoons of batter, tilting the pan immediately this way and that so that the bottom is covered with a thin layer and the batter bubbles. When the top seems dry, turn and do the other side, cook only on one side, as you prefer.

Stir the batter a bit as you work. Delicious with powdered sugar sprinkled atop, or with melted butter and syrup, or whatever strikes your fancy. (Makes 15 to 20 crepes) Or, you might want to do this spectacular version:

GRAND MARNIER CREPES
2 sticks butter
1 cup powdered sugar
1/2 cup fresh orange juice
1/8 tsp. cinnamon
2 oz. Grand Marnier or other orange-flavored liqueur, warmed
18 crepes

Melt the butter in a skillet, and add the sugar, stirring until the sugar dissolves, then add the juice. Cook over low heat, stirring, until thickened. Add the cinnamon. Next, remove the pan from the fire, add the Grand Marnier and flame, stirring until the flame dies.

Place crepes in the skillet one at a time, folding into quarters. Serve, spooning remaining sauce over the top. And see the Carnival season out in a blaze of glory and good taste!

(Copyright, 1991, Katharine D. M. Caire)
(P.S. Be sure to light the match before you pour the liqueur over, for sake of safety—and I never pour directly from the bottle, for the same reason).

Beef cook-off winning recipe takes home $10,000

The Mississippi Cattle Association invites the public to enter the National Beef Cook-off to compete for a share of $35,500 in cash and prizes.

Three categories in which to enter are indoor conventional, microwave and outdoor barbecue.

Indoor conventional entries first compete in the Mississippi competition, which will be in May, 1991, in Jackson.

The winner of that contest receives $1,000 and an expense-paid trip to compete in the National Beef Cook-Off in Colorado Springs, Colo., Sept. 22-24. Other prizes include $500 for second place, $250 for third place and two $50 honorable mentions.

Microwave and outdoor barbecue entries are judged on a regional basis, with seven winners in each category chosen to compete at the national contest.

The winners of the three categories at the national level receive $5,000 and a chance to win an extra $10,000 for "Best Of Beef." Appliances from Tappan and grilling equipment and charcoal from Kingsford, contest contributors, are also awarded to first place winners.

The conventional category includes second and third place prizes of $3,000 and $2,000, as well as five $500 honorable mentions.

Contestants in all categories are eligible to win $1,000 each for the best low-calorie, most convenient and chuck cut (other than ground chuck) recipes.

To enter the National Beef Cook-Off, send your favorite original beef recipe by March 1 to:

Mississippi Beef Cook-Off,

Shaking up the scene

Bay High School, St. Stanislaus and Our Lady Academy students tasted some of the flavor and zest of Shakespeare Tuesday at an in-school performance of New Stage of Jackson's Shakescenes on Tour. The performance, sponsored by the Bay High Fine Arts Association in cooperation with the Mississippi Arts Commission, consisted of scenes from Romeo and Juliet, Much Ado About Nothing, Hamlet, Macbeth and A Midsummer Night's Dream. In the left photo, Helena (played by Tracey McHugh) gets caught in the clench as Lysander (Jason Davis) and Hermia (Christie Raney) share a passionate kiss in A Midsummer Night's Dream. Below, Macbeth (Jeff Godsey) and Macduff (Davis) duel in Macbeth's climactic death scene.

In addition, the board spoke to Mrs. Mowetha Williams of Jourdan River Estates about a complaint from people living next to a vacant lot she owns.

Supervisor Mike Ladner told Williams the people filing the complaint claimed that rats and snakes were coming from her property onto theirs.

Williams provided the board with several sets of photos showing that her lot, which has tall natural grass and trees on it, is much like many others in the subdivision, including several which are near the property owned by those who filed the complaint.

The board decided to take the situation under advisement before making a decision about whether or not to declare her property a menace.

If it is declared a menace to the public health and safety, the board will ask Williams to clean the lot, which in this case would mean mowing it with a bush hog.

Other business addressed by the board included:

- opening and taking under advisement bids for a tractor, janitorial services for the Hancock County Human Services Complex and microfilming records;

- approving the docket and January 16-31 payroll;

- authorizing to advertise for culvert bids;

- approving the January minutes;

- and hearing a request from Lora Mederos for the use of space in the Health Department building for the Hancock County Human Resources Department's Child Development Center.

Board president Ronald Cuevas told Mederos that Hancock Medical Center had already requested use of the space several months ago.

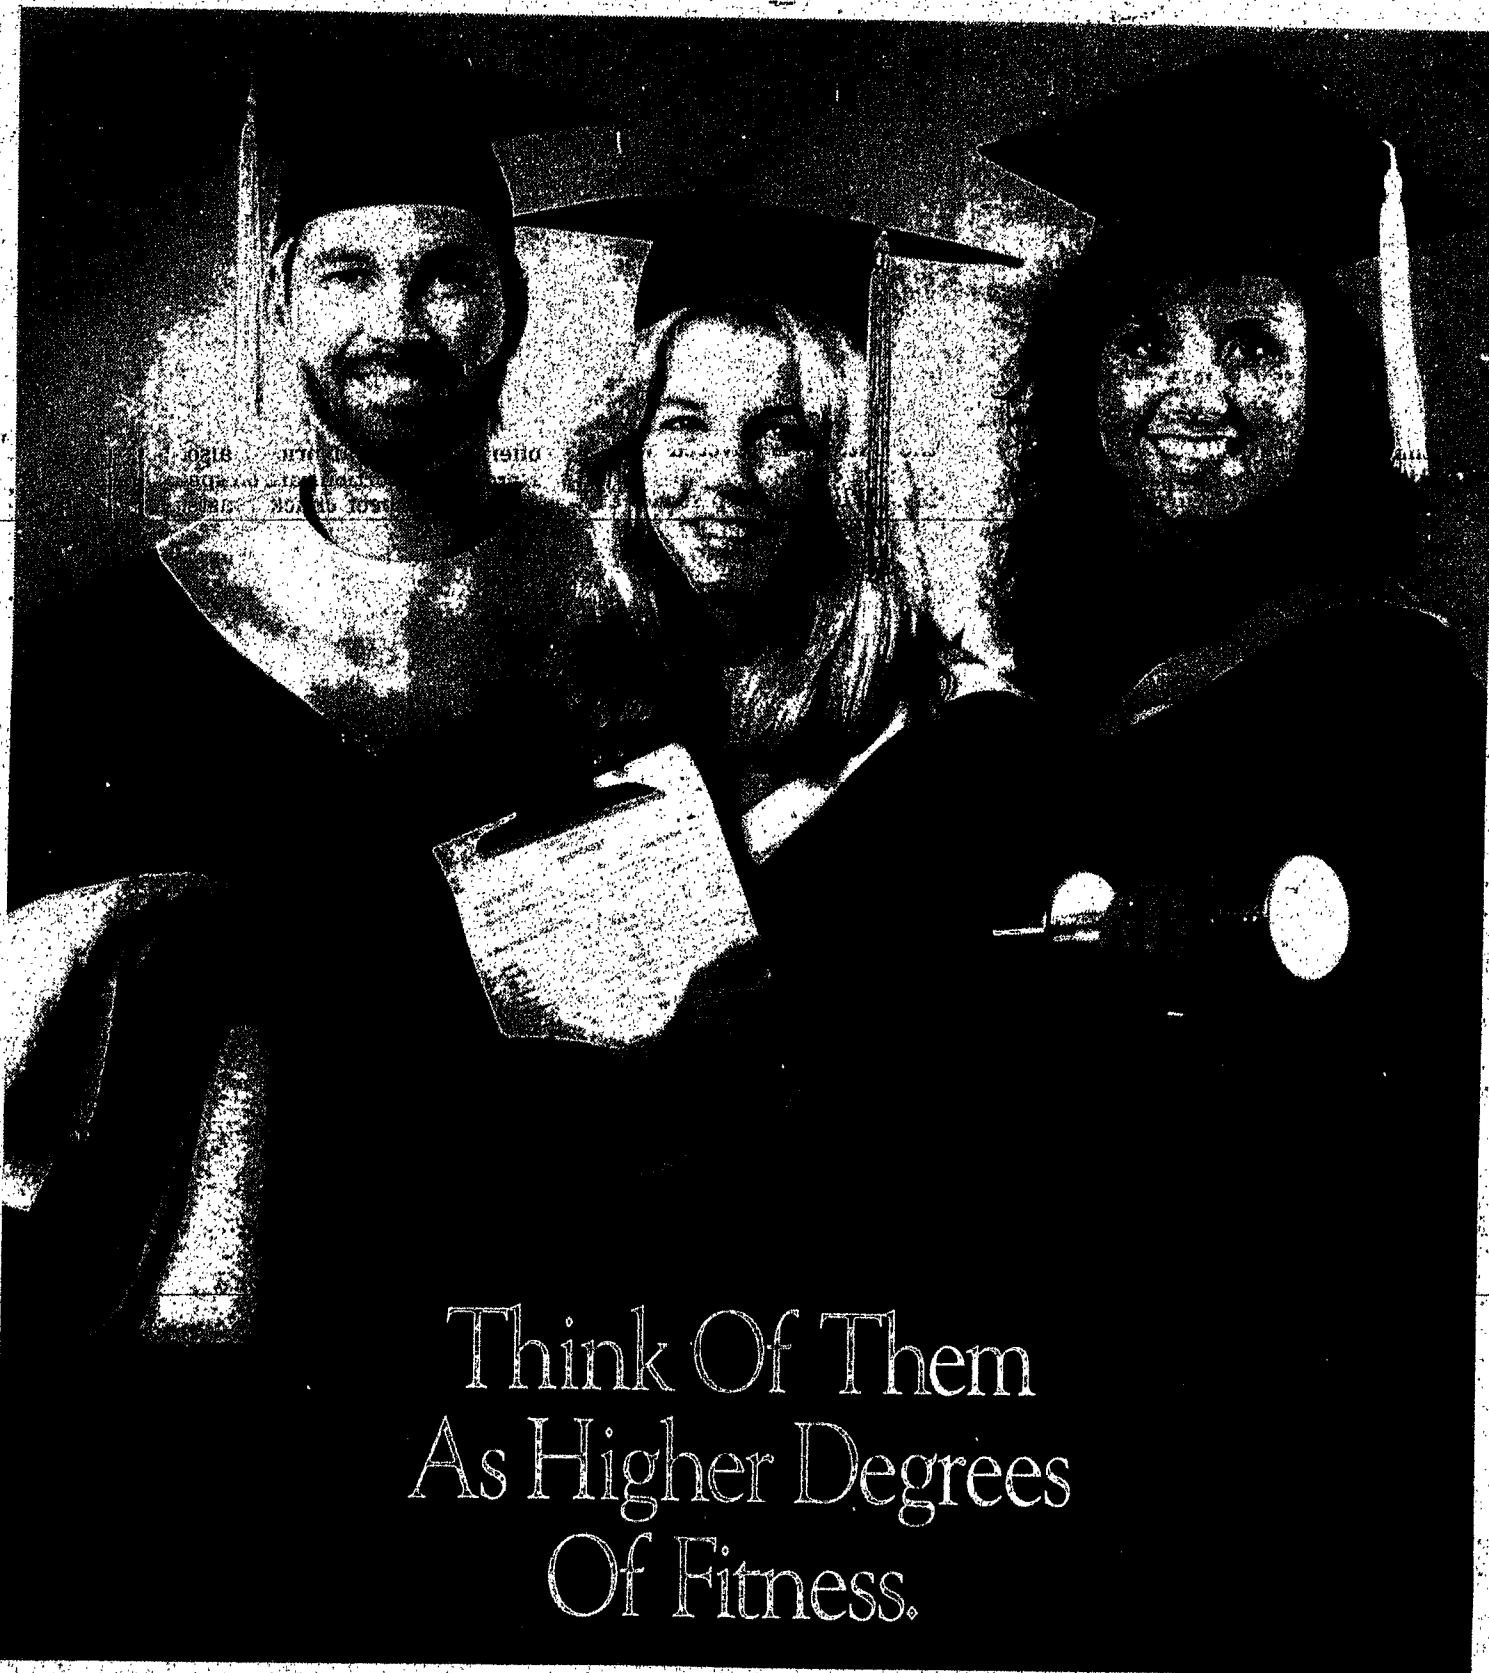

The board set a workshop meeting for February 6 and adjourned until February 15.

Raiders set scoring record

The Coast Episcopal Raiders set a single game scoring record last Friday night, defeating Harvest Academy of Hammond, La. 116-54.

Led by sophomore A. J. Ashe's 33 points, the Raiders led from start to finish and saw the players off the bench score 40 points in the final period to collect the win.

Tuesday night, Reserve Christian School, in Louisiana, brought a 24-1 record into Pass Christian and defeated the Raiders 74-64, despite 32 points from senior Bruce Hull.

The loss dropped the Raiders' overall record to 25-9.

The Raiders return to action this Friday night in the District Tournament in Port Gibson when they take on the winner of the Chamberlain Hunt/Rankin Academy game.

Tip off for the Raiders' game is set for 7:45 p.m. Friday.

BAYS nets Sunday afternoon excitement

The Hammers, Eagles and Fireballs were the winners in three Bay Area Youth Soccer games played Sunday, Jan. 20.

The Monti Electric Hammers defeated the Carter Urology Hummingbirds 2-0 in the first game of the afternoon. Both teams started out sluggishly, but Hammers goals by Zachary Cooper in the third quarter and Breenan Brooks in the fourth were enough to secure the victory.

In the afternoon's second game, the Hancock Bank Eagles blanked the Alcan Pelicans 3-0. Eagle Alvin Kingston III scored in the first quarter, and an explosive Lisa Mestayer scored in the second and third quarters. The Pelicans made a valiant effort, with 13 shots attempted but blocked.

In the third game of the day, the Fireballs started with a first quarter goal by Evan Coote. They then exploded for three goals in the second quarter with Coote accounting for two of them and Eric Stevens netting the third. In the third quarter, Neil Favre closed out the scoring for the Fireballs with a fifth. The Rotary Firecrackers got on the board in the fourth quarter with a goal by Marshall Black.

Hancock defeats Bay High

The Hancock High School Hawks defeated rival Bay High Tigers Tuesday night at Hancock, 65-57.

Bay High played a close game until the fourth quarter, when Hancock scored 28 points to Bay High's 16.

Leading scoring for Hancock was Leo Acker with 23 points. Mike Sharp led for the Tigers with 21 points.

Others scoring for the Hawks were Dorian Acker, 13; Regan Ladner, 10; Tracy Lee, 7; Maurice Payne, 6; Tyron Ladner, 4; and Kevin Hodges, 2.

Bay High players putting points on the scoreboard were David Weems, 15; Chris Robertson, 9; Calvin Thigpen, 4; Brian Necaise, 4; and Tripp Whavers, 4.

Hancock stands at 18-9, while Bay High is 11-14.

Deer research examined on ETV

How does ongoing deer research keep deer populations booming?

On the next "Mississippi Outdoors," airing Thursday, Feb. 7, at 7:30 p.m., viewers will learn what goes on at a wildlife management area: check station, and how the data gathered at these stations relate to good deer hunting.

"Mississippi Outdoors" will also air at 6:15 a.m., Friday, Feb. 8 and 5:30 p.m., Saturday, Feb. 9, on Mississippi ETV.

Host Melvin Tingle explores deer studies done by Mississippi State University at the Marion County Wildlife Management Area (WMA) in Columbia with guests Dr. Harry Jacobson of Mississippi State University; Danny Springer of Columbia, manager of the Marion County WMA; Dave Darrow of Starkville, graduate research assistant at MSU; and Bill Hamrick of Newton, Ala., Chickasawhay WMA managers Ronnie Hurst and Jerry Watkins, both of Laurel, detail other ways wildlife management areas are involved in collecting data.

CEHS Lady Raiders drop close game

After a slow first quarter, Coast Episcopal's Lady Raiders came back to nearly upset Harvest Academy, who finished second in last year's Louisiana State Private School Tournament finals.

Down 12-2 in the first quarter, the Lady Raiders outscored Harvest in both the second and fourth quarters.

In foul trouble from halftime on, Harvest put Raiders' sophomore Megan Uram and freshman Miriam Salloum on the foul line repeatedly in the second half. This resulted in an impressive joint effort to 90 percent accuracy.

Even with this help, the Lady Raiders could not handle Harvest's scrappy full-court press.

Harvest's Laura Miller, a dead shot from the three-point area, bothered the Lady Raiders throughout the game, resulting in a 45-49 loss.

Scoring for Coast, Uram pumped in a career high 32 points, while Salloum canned 11. Freshman Brooke Shultz added two points.

The Lady Raiders are now 2-4 and play CM & I next week in Jackson.

Sometimes, It's Important To See The World Through A Child's Eyes.

No one knows that better than Dr. Candace Collins. She's a Pediatric Ophthalmologist. So she specializes in the testing and treatment of children's eyes. And she does this from a child's point of view.

Dr. Collins knows that, to a child, a visit to the eye doctor can be a frightening experience. So she's done everything possible to change that.

Dr. Collins' waiting room is a playroom. And her eye exams are child's play. Because instead of looking at eye charts, your infant or toddler will watch a special puppet show. It's a process called Preferential Looking, developed specifically for pre-verbal children. To your older child, Dr. Collins' pediatric testing equipment resembles the sci-fi technology they've seen in movies. So eye exams are fun.

Your child's eyesight is a precious gift. Ensure it. With regular eye exams by Slidell's only Pediatric Ophthalmologist, Dr. Candace Collins. She could help your child see a world of difference.

Hancock High salutes military in Desert Storm

BY JACQUI COCHRAN
Hancock County High School's varsity cheerleaders sponsored a day of honor last Thursday for United States military personnel serving in the Persian Gulf. Classes were interrupted for a half hour as students gathered together in the gymnasium for presentations by the various school clubs.

Representing U.S. Senator Trent Lott, guest speaker Roice Luke spoke of Lott's support for the war effort.

He said, "If we do not stop him (Saddam) now, he will have time to increase his chemical, biological and nuclear weapons."

An all-girl chorus sang a medley of patriotic songs.

Students wore yellow ribbons with HHS written down the length.

A tree decorated with yellow ribbons was donated to the library.

The school band played Lee Greenwood's "I'm proud to be an American" while students enthusiastically joined in song, waving small flags.

A wall in the senior high complex was covered with the names of alumni and faculty members known to be serving in the Middle East.

A huge yellow-ribboned wreath was hung over the school name plate at the front entrance.

Throughout the school, yellow bows and wreaths decked the arches of classrooms and walkways.

Following the presentations, the students returned to their classes to continue with the job of studies, just as the soldiers they honored must continue with the job of war.

Favre to be parade marshal

Bay St. Louis Mayor Edward Favre will serve as the grand marshal of the Krewe of Kamehameha parade which will start at noon Saturday, Feb. 9.

In addition to his mayoral duties, Favre serves as president of the Bay St. Louis Little League, coaches for Bay Area Youth Soccer, is a member of the Pere Le Duc Council of the Knights of Columbus, Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church, and is a certified public accountant.

Favre serves as a member of the board of directors of the Mississippi Municipal Association and is co-chairman of MMA's Finance Committee.

"Mardi Gras is one of my favorite local celebrations and I'm honored to be asked to serve as grand marshal for my Diamondhead neighbors," he said.

God bless our troops

There is something happening in our lives today. Something that is sending all American troops away.

We never wanted any of them to leave home.

But now that they have—our hearts will always roam.

Those of ours who are loved and so greatly missed.

Those who are willing to take part of this.

They're strong, independent, and brave.

For it is the safety of them all that we crave.

I don't have any children over there.

But there is a brother and friend that I had to spare.

No one ever thought it will ever go this far.

And no one ever thought that there will be a war!

This war has started, and hopefully soon will end.

So our brave soldiers could be with their families again.

To have men and women like this is a blessing to all of us. Why are some people putting up such a big fuss?

They are doing something that many feel is right.

We all need to stand behind them and fight!

For our people and country they are risking their lives.

Giving up mothers, fathers, children and wives.

To me they are risking a big, big part.

We want them all to know they are deep in our heart.

Let's just all pray and ask God to make everything right.

By first putting an end to this fight!

May God bless each and every one of you for doing your part and trying to keep straight.

You all should know it is you who makes our country so great!

Crunch!

No injuries resulted from this two-vehicle collision Friday on DeMontluzin Ave. by Bay Technical Associates when a BFI dumpster truck and a 1991 Ford Crown Victoria met, according to Officer David Parker of the Bay St. Louis Police Department. Parker said Betsy A. Necaise, 53, of Kiln was at the wheel of the Ford and Michael L. Seidule, 33, of Biloxi was driving the BFI vehicle when the accident occurred. ### Bay council considers protection ordinance

BY TRACI BONNEY

Last year, the need for a tree protection ordinance in Bay St. Louis seemed of paramount importance when the city was almost laid to the roots of two large live oaks at St. Stanislaus during the selection of a building addition site.

However, a public hearing Tuesday on the proposed ordinance drew only a few residents to city hall to voice their concerns.

The ordinance as proposed would protect live oaks, southern magnolias, sweetbays, sweetgums and red maples that have a caliper (the diameter at 36 inches above the ground) of eight inches or a circumference of 25 inches.

City council president Charles Scianna said laurel oaks and southern red oaks may also be added to the list.

Evelyn Gordon posed the following hypothetical situation: if a homeowner has a diseased tree that is on the protected tree list, but the city's tree adviser tells him he can't remove the tree, what should the homeowner do?

Scianna said Section 25-7 covers that contingency. If the homeowner wishes to appeal the tree adviser's ruling, he would appeal the decision to the city council, which would hear the case and either accept or reject the adviser's recommendation.

Phillip Remel of Southland Services asked if a permit would be required to remove a dead protected tree. He said the ordinance stated nothing about such a situation.

Scianna replied, "I don't think a permit would be necessary in that case."

Franya Ethridge questioned the 1 1/2-inch caliper requirement for replacement trees. She asked why a homeowner would be required to replant a large live oak, for instance, with such a small tree instead of a larger one.

Remel, who works in tree and lawn maintenance, and Scianna both said small replacement trees have a better chance of survival than large ones.

Ethridge also proposed an amendment to the ordinance to include language ensuring that a tree being used for the replacement of a removed tree survives a certain amount of time. She pointed out that a tree cannot be considered to have been successfully replaced if the replacement tree dies.

Remel suggested the council state in the ordinance that a tree must survive at least a year to be considered a successful replacement, for the removed tree.

Councilman John Wilkerson brought up a point he had contended in past meetings: the caliper requirement. He said he thought an eight-inch-caliper tree was too small to protect.

Remel explained that some trees, such as the southern magnolia and some oaks, grow slowly and can take 20 to 50 years to obtain an eight-inch caliper.

Ethridge asked how the tree ordinance would be enforced.

Wilkerson jokingly replied, "Citizens. Just like everything else — we have the laws; it's up to you to enforce them."

Calls from residents noticing suspicious activity, or reports from law enforcement and other city agencies, would help in the enforcement of the ordinance, council members said.

Scianna closed the public hearing by saying the council would consider adding the eastern red cedar, sycamore and bald cypress trees to the protected tree list, along with the laurel oak and southern red oak.

By Lydia Schultz

Hancock's winter guests include Bluebirds, Robins

Special to the Echo
By LYDIA SCHULTZ
Sialia sialis. If you're a true blue Bluebird fan (fanatic), you know that that is the Latin scientific name for our Eastern Bluebird. There is even a publication called Sialia sialis for those who want to be kept up-to-date on Bluebird findings. Right now, in Bay St. Louis and Hancock County, you have a great chance to see this magnificent member of the Thrush family. That's the same family of the American Robin which is another bird that is very evident in your yard this month. They can be heard and seen from September through May. The reason we seem to see Bluebirds now is that so many are wintering here from as far North as Southern Canada. So you see, we not only have our permanent Bluebirds that breed and nest here, but we have other groups of wintering Bluebirds who have come in search of worms, insects and berries in our warmer-than-theirs climate. The Robins are different. They do not nest here. (There are a couple of records of lazy Robin pairs that have nested in Southern Mississippi and I get a report of some every June or July in Waveland! Interesting, huh? (I need pictures!) But for the most part, all of the Robins are winter residents. They nest as far north as Alaska and Canada. Insect and fruit-eating birds such as these are particularly vulnerable if they stay on their breeding ranges for winter. And some of them do just that, too. If a long, hard freeze occurs, no food and no water are available leaving numerous birds to barely exist or die.

Bluebirds love a well-kept bird bath. They will nest in man-made boxes and man can boast that we helped bring this bird back from near extinction in the late 60s with the classic "Bluebird house." If you're one of the fortunate souls who has this bird nesting in your yard or area, count yourself very lucky. Their brilliant blue is breathtaking! Looks as though this is a banner year for American Goldfinches. The lil' beggars come in droves to well-stocked feeders. Purple Finches have also made a great showing this year. And don't you know I'm lucky. The seed gets spilled by the back door of my store when it's delivered. Each morning as I drive up, Juncos and Chipping Sparrows are all over. So, what I don't get at home, I get there. (Guess it's a hint to put up a feeder there, too. My feathered friends find me. Ha.) Have I told you about my hummingbird for this winter? It's an adult male Rufous! I've always had females or immature males; never the stunning adult male for any more than a glimpse. Well, this year he arrived in early December and is like clockwork, emptying the feeder regularly. (Ah, lil' things make us happy.) Remember, get your bird houses up now! No Purple Martins have been reported but one can appear any day. Hummingbird feeders could be attracting north-bound birds toward the end of this month. Migration will start within a few short weeks so it's time to expect the unexpected. Look outside, look up, listen and good birding.

An Open Letter to Our New Neighbors in Hancock County from Calgon Carbon Corporation

Dear Neighbors:

Today, we're proud to become a part of your community with the groundbreaking of our new Pearl River Plant in Port Bienville Industrial Park. We hope it will be the beginning of a long and fruitful relationship with the people of Hancock County. We certainly have been warmly welcomed and have great hopes to be a vital contributor to the economy and quality of life of this area.

Since some of our new neighbors may not be very familiar with our company, I'd like to take this opportunity to tell you a little about us. As our name suggests, carbon is our business, specifically activated carbon. Activation of carbon is a process by which a carbon-based raw material is made very porous. The resulting product is used to purify liquids and gases through the phenomenon of adsorption.

Our roots go back to the beginning of World War II in Pittsburgh, when we were given the critical assignment from the United States Government to develop an effective filtering product based on American sourced raw material for gas mask filters. Our efforts resulted in the coal-based activated carbon granule, an adsorption powerhouse. After the war, we turned our attention to pioneering the vast potential of granular activated carbon. Our work led to new carbon products and services for purification of drinking water, industrial and municipal wastewater, air, foods, pharmaceuticals, chemicals and petrochemicals. It's also used for precious metal recovery and by-product reclamation from waste streams. And of course, it's still a vital filtering agent in gas masks and industrial respirators.

Today, headquartered in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, we're the leading supplier of activated carbon products and systems in the world with 1400 employees and manufacturing plants in Kentucky, Pennsylvania, England, Belgium and Germany. We expect to add Mississippi to our family of operating manufacturing plants by the beginning of 1992.

Our products and services are currently meeting environmental and industrial needs on six continents supported by sales offices in the U.S., Canada, England, Belgium, France, Italy and Germany and a worldwide network of agents. We're also participating in a joint venture in Japan.

In all our company locations, we value strong community relations. We also take great pride in our reputation for providing an exceptional working environment for our employees and their families by offering competitive salaries, excellent benefits and career growth opportunities.

On behalf of Calgon Carbon Corporation, I wish to extend my sincere appreciation to everyone who has helped us during the planning phase of this project. We want to convey special thanks to the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission, the Hancock County Board of Supervisors and the Mississippi Department of Economic Development. Their help and hospitality has been invaluable in making the new Pearl River Plant a reality.

We would like to express our gratitude to everyone who has warmly welcomed us into your community. I have great hopes for the plant's future and know that we can make a positive difference in Hancock County.

Very truly yours,

Thomas A. McConomy

Mardi Gras— Nereids style

It was breezy and slightly overcast, but there was no rain on Nereids parade Sunday as the 25th annual all-women's carnival krewe took to the streets in Waveland. The crowd enjoyed a first class presentation, as the Nereids presented "The Way We Never Were."

Students' legislative project clears first hurdle in Jackson

BY JACQUE COCHRAN

Learning that the legislative process is a long and complicated task is a tough lesson for the sixth grade classes of Jeanette Handshaw and Jane Lamb.

The Bay Middle School students have returned from a trip to Jackson with one potential victory in their pockets.

The Senate environmental protection committee has passed the Mississippi Marine Litter Act of 1986 on to the House of Representatives with the recommendation that the law be renewed come July 1.

The committee made no suggestion for change to the existing law.

Senator Dick Hall of Hinds County, chairman, stated, "The committee did not want to get into any changes. The plan was to send it to the House and let them take action."

Now the bill must be accepted or changed, literally, on the House floor.

The students are advocating amendments to the law, and have submitted a bill of their own, #2282.

As the law stands, there is no minimum fine for littering state waters, although there are maximum dollar figures for first and subsequent violations.

In addition to a minimum monetary punishment, the students want violators to perform community service hours in cleaning up that which they defiled.

As the law stands, anyone under 18 years of age is exempt from penalization. The students want all people to be made accountable. They ask that cleanup hours be given to the younger lawbreakers.

And, lastly, the students are requesting that all hazardous liquids present on a vessel in the marine waters of the state be kept in a proper container. The present law has no such stipulation.

The students are continuing with their active pursuit for dent by a stack of correspondence.

Handshaw said money remaining from the Mississippi Power Company grant they received to assist in their lobbying efforts will be used for a second trip to the capital to witness the final result of the bill.

"There is enough money in the grant to make the second try," added Handshaw.

While in Jackson January 22 and 23, the students were kept busy touring.

They listened to Governor Ray Mabus give the state address to joint houses, and following the speech, met with him in his office.

They attended the Senate committee meeting on the renewal bill.

They toured the Natural Science Museum, the Governor's Mansion and watched debate in the Senate Chamber.

The students met with Sen. Vic Frankiewicz and with the deputy director of the department of Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks, who presently is overseeing the Bureau of Marine Resources (BMR), Joseph I. Gill Jr.

Handshaw expects the bill will be ready to go into law sometime in early spring. "Vic Senator Frankiewicz" is keeping us informed on the bill's progress.

"One thing," continued Handshaw, "the kids are getting quite a civics lesson out of this."

On the steps of the Governor's Mansion amendments to the present bill, reported Handshaw.

She said they feel a bit disappointed the committee did not agree to incorporate the desired changes, but they are not giving up.

"I keep reminding them, at least we will continue to have a

Newspapers, television and radio stations are being contacted by the students in an attempt to solicit aid in spreading the word of their efforts. And 25 pairs of hands are still busy practicing their sixth grade letter writing skills, etc.

Pass Christian Senior Citizens

The monthly birthday luncheon was Wednesday, Jan. 30 at the Pass Christian Senior Citizens Center on West 2nd Street. Approximately 23 members and guests Delores Peralta, Barbara Talley and Bessie Beard enjoyed a delicious meal, many desserts and iced tea.

Happy Birthday was sung by the members and guests to Victoria Webb who celebrated her birthday this month. Other members who had January birthdays were Janetta Cook and Lula Vella. They were unable to attend.

The gift shop at the center is open Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. There you may find many nice gift items at a reasonable price. They are made by the ladies at the center. Many of the items are suitable for Easter gifts.

Mae Parker, director of the center, invites all senior citizens (55 years and older) to join for arts, crafts and ceramics.

Participating members are invited to the monthly luncheon. Date of the February luncheon will be announced later at the center.

We've Had The Foresight To Ensure Your Newborn's Eyesight.

Dr. Candace Collins, Pediatric Ophthalmologist

Look who we've added to our Neonatal staff: Dr. Candace Collins, Pediatric Ophthalmologist. She's here to check the eyes of your newborn. Because a lifetime of good sight begins with life at first sight.

Dr. Collins is the only Ophthalmologist in Sidel who specializes in the examination and treatment of children's eyes. And this expertise is vital, especially for premature babies, whose eyes are not fully-developed at birth. Because undetected problems could eventually lead to blindness.

As a member of NorthShore's Neonatal staff, Dr. Collins will thoroughly examine and treat your baby's eyes as needed. She joins our staff Neonatologist, Dr. Markene Buis, and a complete staff of pediatric nurses in our specially-equipped nursery. For the most complete newborn care on the north shore.

So if you're expecting a baby, come see all that NorthShore Regional Medical Center has to offer. You'll appreciate our foresight. And Dr. Collins will ensure your newborn's eyesight.

help big brothers and sisters adjust to the changes the new baby will bring. Pregnagym™, a medically-supervised pre- and post-natal exercise program conducted at NorthShore Health Center and offered free to those who deliver at NorthShore Regional Medical Center.

Peace of Mind.

About a month before your baby arrives, we'll provide you with a beeper, so you can alert your loved ones when you go into labor. It's part of our Peace of Mind Program™ designed to ease your worrying as the big day draws near. If it's after office hours, and you're not feeling quite right, you'll find peace of mind in our emergency room, where you can be examined by an emergency physician at no charge.

First in Healthcare.

At NorthShore Regional Medical Center, our top priority is to provide you everything you need in healthcare. That's why we were the first hospital in the area to offer low-cost package pricing for patients without maternity insurance. And no out-of-pocket expenses for maternity patients with insurance. We were also the first to offer the amenities that have made our maternity program so popular, like maternity beepers and homemaker assistance.

We also know that all the extras in the world don't mean anything unless the care you and your newborn receive is first rate. So we're staffed with the best healthcare professionals available. And equipped with the finest technology.

Neonatal Intensive Care.

Our Neonatal Intensive Care Unit is state-of-the-art, and staffed with a neonatologist and neonatal subspecialists. To ensure that your newborn receives the finest care available, should complications arise. Additionally, both of our well baby nurseries offer your newborn the gentle, expert care of our neonatal nurses.

Hancock, SSC students vie in science, math tournament

The 17th annual Mississippi Science and Mathematics Tournament unfolds at Mississippi College on Thursday and Friday, Feb. 7 and 8, with top high school science and mathematics students from the local area among those participating.

The tournament, sponsored by the Mississippi College departments of Science and Mathematics, recognizes students and their high schools for outstanding achievement in the two fields of study.

This year's competition will include more than 1,700 students representing over 200 different, public and private schools in two days of intense competition.

Featuring both team and individual competition, the tournament offers approximately $95,000 in academic scholarships to Mississippi College.

Individual competition includes one-hour written exams in math, biology, chemistry and physics with each student allowed to compete in two of the four areas.

First place winners receive $1,000 scholarships, second place winners receive a $500 scholarship, while third place winners receive a $400 scholarship, and $300 scholarships are given to the top ten percent in each division.

Team competition is divided into two divisions depending on the science and math curriculum offered by the individual schools.

The four-member teams compete in a quiz-type format where questions are flashed on the screen and quick calculations and responses are required. All calculations are done with pencil and paper.

The following students from St. Stanislaus High School will participate: Scott Niolet, Joe Williams, George Holder, Michael Thomas, Manning Montagnet, Andrew Williams, Ron Kayes, Martin Braud and Michael Lee.

Hancock High School students competing are: Carya Latino, Debbie Moore, Leo Ackler, William Foxworth, John Moore, Deedy Necaise, Natalie Abbott and Eric Necaise.

Homrig, Johnson, Niolet named Coca-Cola Scholar semifinalists

Seven area seniors have been selected as semifinalists from more than 60,000 applicants for the 1991 Coca-Cola Scholars Program. Only 1,800 semifinalists, nationwide, were chosen from these applicants.

Seniors selected include Brian Dedeaux, son of Ronnie and Sharon Dedeaux, St. John High School; Em V Do, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tam Van Do, Long Beach High School; Ashley Drago, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Drago, Harrison Central High School; Jonathan Dyal, son of Ron and Brenda

Dyal, Stone County High School;

Jeffrey Homrig, son of David and Lisa Homrig, Coast Episcopal High School; Jessica Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Ladner, Bay Senior High School; and Joseph Niolet, son of Diane Gallagher, St. Stanislaus High School.

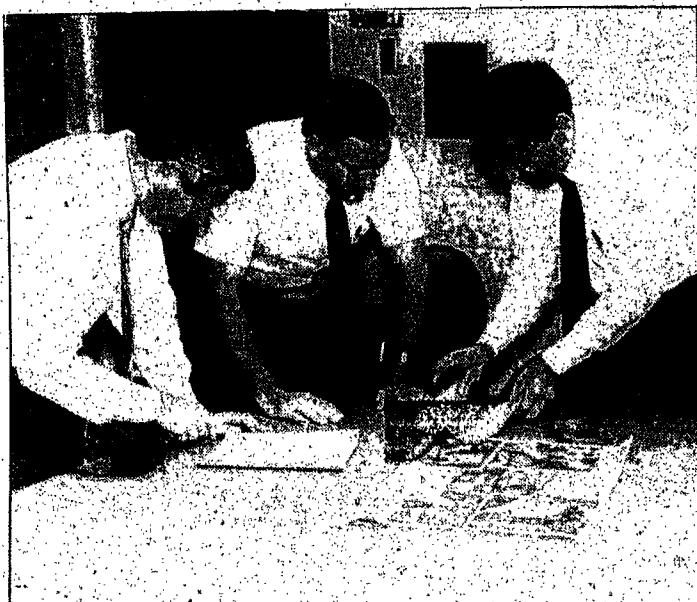

"These semifinalists exemplify the balance of leadership, character, and achievement in school and the community that we are searching for in our Coca-Cola Scholars. We are delighted to have seven semifinalists from our area and wish them success in the final stages of the selection process," said Doug Price of Coast Coca-Cola Bottling Company.

The semifinalists will complete additional materials which will be screened by the Foundation's Program Review Committee in March. Following the Review Committee's selection of 150 Coca-Cola Scholars, these students will attend the National Competition in Atlanta from April 18-20, where they will compete for designation as National or Regional Coca-Cola Scholars.

The 50 National Scholars will receive awards of $5,000 per year and the 100 Regional Scholars will receive $1,000 per year, both renewable for up to four years.

The largest business-sponsored scholarship program in the country, the Foundation is funded by a $25 million endowment contributed by participating Coca-Cola bottlers and The Coca-Cola Company. Building from the first 150 Coca-Cola Scholars selected in spring 1989, the Foundation will support 600 scholarships a year by 1992 with annual outlays of more than $1.4 million.

Time capsule

Brother Paul Montero, right, principal of St. Stanislaus High School, shows Brother Aquin Gauthier, left, and Dr. Michael Ryan the contents taken from a recently opened time capsule. It will be returned to the base of the statue in front of the school when the new classroom addition is completed. The capsule had been in the cornerstone of the building, constructed in 1904, prior to being destroyed in Hurricane Camille. The capsule contained coins and medals from the late 1890's, newspaper articles from the early 1900's and a list of the students and faculty members at St. Stanislaus in 1972. These articles are presently on display in the Klempeter-Gibbins Memorial Library at St. Stanislaus. (SSC photo)

"Between The Expectant Mothers
And The Expectant Fathers,
I Never Know What To Expect."

When delivering babies, Dr. Douglas Slocum always expects the unexpected. Because, as he has often seen, sometimes the events which surround a delivery can be almost as exciting as the delivery itself.

As an Ob-Gyn, Dr. Slocum is often a part of this excitement: He's been amused by two mothers in labor debating who had the right to deliver first. He's seen even the toughest of men pass out in the delivery room. And he's often reassured anxious family members as they paced the halls.

He has also experienced, first hand, the many emotions expectant parents feel—he felt them, too, when his own children were delivered. So he can easily relate with his patients and their families.

The joys these experiences bring are the very reasons Dr. Slocum chose to be an obstetrician. Because for Dr. Slocum, there's no greater reward than seeing the tears of joy that fill patients' eyes when they hold their newborn baby for the first time.

So when you're expecting a baby, get the complete, quality obstetrical care you expect. From a doctor who understands what you're experiencing. Dr. Douglas Slocum.

The doctor is expecting you.

Here's A Special Security Blanket For Your Baby.

Dr. Marlene Buis, Neonatologist.

She's a special part of the nursery at NorthShore Regional Medical Center. And she's here to insure your peace of mind. With expert care. And extra attention. To make your baby's arrival safe and secure.

About six percent of all newborns need neonatal care. So chances are, your baby probably won't need to see Dr. Buis. But we're sure that's a chance you won't want to take.

As a Neonatologist, Dr. Buis has extensive training and experience in intensive care for newborns. As a member of our staff, she offers that care right here in our specially-equipped nursery. And our nurses provide careful, continuous monitoring, to make you feel even more secure. In fact, no other hospital on the north shore can offer your baby better care.

So when you're preparing for your baby's arrival, don't forget your security blanket. Dr. Marlene Buis. You may not need her. But isn't it nice to know she's here?

Wal-Mart offers scholarship to local college-bound student

The Waveland Wal-Mart store manager has announced a $1,000 Wal-Mart Foundation community scholarship will be presented this spring to an area high school student.

The scholarship, payable over a one-year period and awarded to a college or university bound student, will be based on the student's scholastic and academic achievements, extra-curricular and work activities, as well as financial need.

Manager Marilyn Bullington said, "We are very proud to offer this annual scholarship to a deserving area student on behalf of our store and the company.

"This is one of many efforts by Wal-Mart Stores Inc. to support education and enhance the opportunities of our area youths as well as contribute to the quality of life in the communities we serve."

Bullington explained a team of judges, consisting of area business and community leaders, will be formed to evaluate the applications and conduct student interviews before making final selection.

Interested students may obtain applications from their school counselor or administrative office. Applications must be returned to their school by the third week in February.

Arleene Sanchez is scholarship coordinator.

The Waveland Wal-Mart scholarship is one of over 1,600 scholarships totaling more than $16 million being given by the Bentonville, Arkansas-based retail chain throughout its 35-state trade territory.
